

Vibe Code Documentation

Welcome to the Vibe Code documentation. Vibe Code is an agentic coding tool that lives in your terminal and helps you turn ideas into code faster than ever before.

Documentation Sections

User Guide \(/users/overview\)

Learn how to use Vibe Code as an end user. This section covers:

- Basic installation and setup
- Common usage patterns
- Features and capabilities
- Configuration options
- Troubleshooting

Developer Guide \(/developers/architecture\)

Learn how to contribute to and develop Vibe Code. This section covers:

- Architecture overview
- Contributing guidelines
- Core concepts and implementation details
- Tools and development workflow
- Extension and plugin development